

Mag. Dr. Sandra Hummel

University of Graz

Institute of Educational Sciences

Department of Empirical Lifeworld Research and Higher Education Didactics

add: Merangasse 70
8010 Graz
tel: +43 380 3832 mail: sandra.hummel@uni-graz.at

Curriculum Vitae

1997 - 2003: Romance Studies (Italian and French) at the University of Graz

2003: Graduation

2003-2005: Lecturer for Italian languages at the University of Graz

2005-2010: Research fellowship

2010-2013: FWF project: Corporal Communication. Latent Sense Structures of Classroom
Interaction

2010-2014: Research Associate at the Department of Teacher Education, University of Graz

2015: Doctoral Degree

2014-2016: Research Associate at the Institute for Pedagogical Professionalization, University of
Graz

2017-2018: Teaching Skills Assessment at the University of Graz

Since 2017: Teaching Skills Development at the Veterinary University of Vienna

Since 2016: Research Associate at the Department of Educational Sciences, University of Graz

Since 2018: Coordinator of an Erasmus+ Capacity Building in Higher Education Project

Key activities:

Higher Education Didactics

Empirical Learning World Research

Learning and Teaching Research

University Development

Learning as a (trans-) formation of experiences, knowledge and action structures in the context of biographical and lifeworld life

Educational phenomenology and action theory

Qualitative-empirical methodology and methodology